NEWPORT DAILY NEWS.

FRIDAY, May 28, 1868

FOR PRESIDENT,
ULYSSES S. GRANT.
FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
SCHUYLER COLFAX.

STRANGERS AND SIGHTSEERS spending the season in Newport will find it hard advantage to copy the advertising columns of the Daily News before selecting their places of taste. They will find, carefully arranged under appropriate heads, the names and places of business of our leading merchants and artisans of all classes, and may thus be enabled to make, by comparison, more satisfactory arrangements than a hasty acquaintance in Newport would give them.

HEAD QUARTERS, POST NO. 2,
DISTRICT OF PROVIDENCE DEPARTMENT, R. I.
"GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC,"
Newport, R. I., May 25, 1868.

GENERAL ORDERS:
No. 6.

I. In accordance with orders from Major General John A. Logan, Commander-in-Chief of the "Grand Army of the Republic," this Post, in connection with all others throughout the United States, will, on Saturday, the 28th inst., engage in the touching and appropriate ceremony of decorating with flowers the graves of our Comrades who sacrificed their lives during the late war.

A tribute of this sort paid to the memory of brave, devoted men whom we, our children, and our children's children will always delight to honor, strongly recommends itself to the hearty sympathy and co-operation of the whole community. We therefore trust the citizens generally will join with us in showing this evidence of respect and gratitude to the honored dead. It is no idle ceremony, but rather a fitting expression of a nation's appreciation of the fearful sacrifice we have safely paid for our national preservation.

II. It has been deemed eminently proper that the demonstration should partake somewhat of a military character. To this end the troops enumerated in a following paragraph of these orders, will form a part of the column.

III. All ex-officers, soldiers and sailors, not members of the "Grand Army of the Republic" who have received an honorable discharge from the service of the United States are cordially invited to unite with this Post in the occasion.

IV. The line will be formed at 2 o'clock, P. M., on South Touro street, the right resting opposite the "Atlantic House."—Troops on arrival will be reported to the Assistant Adjutant General.

The following will be the order of march: The Commander of Post No. 2, G. A. II., and Staff.

Officers and Members of Post No. 2, G. A. II.—Ex-Officers, Soldiers, and Sailors of the United States.

Band 3d U. S. Artillery.

Bvt. Brig. Gen. Horatio G. Gilson, Major, 3d U. S. Artillery, commanding all the troops—and Staff.

Battalion 3d U. S. Artillery.

"Newport Artillery."

"Aquidneck Rifles."

"Barriside Guards."

"Newport Light Infantry."

Officers and Crew of U. S. Revenue Cutter "Crawford."

Carriages conveying Clergy and Speakers and children of deceased soldiers, carrying flowers and wreaths.

His Honor, the Mayor of Newport and other Members of the City Government.

United States Civil Officers.

Children of the Public Schools.

The troops will be formed left in front, by battalions. The column will move down South Touro street to Bowery, down Bowery and Young to Thames, up Thames street to the Cemetery where the ceremonies will be held.

V. It is requested that the citizens along the line of march drape the buildings in mourning, so far as practicable; that the stores be closed, and the flags in the city, and on the shipping in the harbor be displayed at half mast.

VI. The Members of this Post, together with the ex-Officers, Soldiers and Sailors of the United States service, will assemble on the lower floor of the State House at 1 o'clock, P. M.

BY COMMAND OF BVT. BRIG. GEN. GEO. W. TEW
J. A. JONES,
Assistant Adjutant General.

G. A. II.

HEADQUARTERS POST NO. 2,
DIST. OF PROV. DEPT. R. I.

"GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC,"

Newport, R. I., May 25th, 1868.

The members of this Post look to the ladies of Newport to assist them in obtaining the necessary flowers and wreaths to carry out the ceremonies alluded to in the foregoing orders. floral contributions therefore will be gratefully received, and may be left at any time before noon on Saturday at the Vestry Room of the 1st Baptist Church on Spring Street in rear of the State House.

All persons having friends who died in the U. S. service buried in the cemeteries in Newport, are respectfully requested to send their names and a description of the locality of the graves to the store of Mr. Henry T. Eaton, 103 Thames Street.

GEORGE W. TEW,
Bvt. Brig. Gen. U. S. Vol.,
Commanding Post.

TOLERATION.—The Providence Journal has the following:

We did not suppose that the action of a recent religious convention, in this State, would be soon outdone, but we fear that Baptist friends must yield the palm to the Reformed Presbyterians. At a meeting at Pittsburg, a motion was made by Mr. James Sample, to suspend from membership George H. Stuart, the well known President of the Christian Commission, and to declare him a heretic in the Synod vacant, while uniting with other Christians in the worship of God. The Reformed Presbyterians, it will be remembered, only tolerate the use of the Psalms. If this be a sample of Reformed Presbyterianism, we prefer the original article.

Our Fallen Heroes.

It seems but yesterday when hostile armies were marching to and fro in our land, and when the rebellion was at its height. We all remember the scenes of those days. Our country was in peril. Republican institutions were on trial before the whole world. Every loyal heart was stirred with emotion, and from our once peaceful and quiet homes, thousands went forth to brave the perils of battle and expose their lives in defense of freedom. So powerful were our enemies, and so persistent their struggle, that victory was won only at the expense of untold treasure and the loss of many precious lives. All over our country lie the sleeping dead, whose names should be honored by a grateful people, and whose memories will be cherished by generations yet to come. Tomorrow it is proposed to pay a fitting tribute to these departed heroes.

What could be more appropriate than these contemplated services? For the comrades of the fallen to gather around their fallen soldiers, and strew their final resting place with the fresh Spring flowers a like expressive and touching. No sweater, purer offering could be made. Every citizen should feel it a privilege to join in the beautiful and impressive ceremony. The children should be taught the great lesson of patriotism which the scene imparts, that they may teach it to their children for all time to come.

Newport shared largely in the offering made upon the altar of patriotism. She sent her full proportion of men to the front, and while rejoicing over the victories gained, mourns the loss of many who fell on the field of battle, or fell victim to disease in the camp and hospital. About fifty of these sleep in our cemeteries, and to-morrow it is proposed to honor their memories by joining in the great National tribute which the Grand Army of the Republic has so appropriately arranged. For once let all patriotic feelings be forgotten, and let us join the soldiers who survive in their tribute to their comrades who have fallen. Let the whole community go with garlands of flowers and keep alive the recollection of their glorious deeds, and re-inspire the hearts of the people with a love of the Union and the country for which these martyrs fought and died.

National Finances.—Mr. Morgan of New York has introduced a bill in the Senate for the reduction of interest on the public debt which provides as follows: that the secretary of the Treasury be authorized to issue coupons as registered loans of the U. S. after 20, 30, and 40 years respectively, and having the following rates of yearly interest payable semi-annually in cash, that is to say, that the issue of bonds falling due in twenty years shall bear interest at five per cent.; bonds falling due in thirty years shall bear interest at four and a half per cent.; and bonds falling due in forty years shall bear interest at four per cent., which bonds shall be exempt from taxation in any form by or under State municipal or local authority and the same and the interest thereon, and the income therefrom shall be exempt from the payment of all taxes or duties to the United States other than such income tax as may be assessed upon other incomes, and to be exclusively used for the redemption of the principal by exchange or in payment for part of the present interest-bearing debt of the United States, other than the existing five per cent. bonds and the three per cent. certificates, and may be issued in an amount in the aggregate sufficient to cover the principal of all outstanding or existing obligations as limited herein and no more, but not to exceed one third part of the whole sum shall be of the issue redeemable in twenty years.

The Spindle City.—Lowell has long reigned in the name of the spindle city, as the leading manufacturing town of America. This honor has for some time since been disputed by Fall River, and with good reason, as statistics show that she has more spindles in operation than her rival. The news of the latter city after crediting Lowell with (all she claims) 450,000 spindles gives the statistics of the Fall River mill which foot up 507,000 and adds; Since the above table was compiled, (May 1st,) one of our mills, the Fall River Manufacturing, containing 9,240 spindles, has been destroyed by fire. Notwithstanding this deduction, however, we still lead Lowell over 40,000 spindles.

An Editor.—The realm of the Press is enchanted ground, wrote Bayard Taylor. At times an editor has the happiness of knowing that he has defended the right, exposed the wrong, protected the weak; that he has given utterance to a sentiment that makes somebody happier, kindled a smile upon a sad face, or hope in a heavy heart. He may meet with that sentiment many years after it may have lost all charm of paternity, but he feels affection for it. He welcomes it as a long absent child. He reads it as if for the first time, and wonders if, indeed, he wrote it, for he was changed since then. Perhaps he could not give utterance to the sentiment now—perhaps he would not if he could. It seems like the voice of the former self calling to his parent, and there is something mournful in its tone. He begins to think. He remembers why he wrote it, who were his readers then, and whether they have gone; that he was then, and how much he has changed. So he muses, until he finds himself wondering if that thought of his will continue to distract him, is dead, and whether he shall really die on something that will suffice him, and then comes the sweet consciousness that there is nothing in the sentence that he could wish unwritten—that is a better part of him—he shuns for a moment of immortal life to have joyed behind him, when he is the triumphant survivor, "and takes his place in the silent halls of death."

New Links.—The Providence Herald understands that a company of gentlemen of enterprise and capital, are about to start a line of side-wheel steamers to run between New York and Pawtucket.

About Home.

The Honored Dead.—The following are the names and places of burial of the Soldiers and Sailors whose graves are to be decorated to-morrow, so far as the officers of the Post can now ascertain. If the friends of the deceased discover errors or omissions, which is quite possible, they will please hand in the corrections at the Daily News office in time for the Newport Journal which is published at five o'clock. The Journal will contain the amended list and other matters pertaining to the celebration:

Baptist Anniversary.

To the Editors of the Daily News:

NEW YORK, May 28, 1868.

Yesterday was full of anniversary services in Baptist pulpits throughout New York and Brooklyn. The writer listened to a sermon by Rev. P. S. Hanson, D. D. of Philadelphia in the Strong Place Church in the forenoon, in the afternoon attended the anniversary of the Bedford Avenue, S. St., with which he was connected fifteen years ago, and in the evening took his place in the crowd assembled to hear the inimitable, inexpressible, irrepressible Beecher.

William Neville, a broken man on the Worcester and Providence passage train, while standing on the top of a car going into the Providence depot, struck an iron truss, was thrown between the cars and fatally injured.
